Figure 2: In infants at familial risk of ASD, resting gamma power in frontal regions (electrode diagram on left) significantly mediates relationships between parent input (tokens, types, and MLU) and T-scores on the Expressive Language scale of the Mullen Scales of Early Learning. For simplicity, only results for Tokens are shown (Types and MLU are very similar).